Item Name: Pommard Wine- Clos des Ursulines (2005)

Item Value: $75.00

Item Description:

This bottle of French wine is a supple, civilized Pommard, rich with cherry, boysenberry and red currant notes. Tannins are present, but they're refined. It has zip and length. Best from before 2020. Points Wine Spectator.

"Tasted by Nike Ritner on Nov 16, 2010; Wow! Beautiful ruby colour, hints of berry and cherry to the nose. Still lots of tannins, so it can come across as somewhat abrasive underneath a smooth surface. Good acidity. Quite delicious after letting it open up for 2+ hours. No need to drink it now; it should improve further in the next few years, lots of potential. Still too early to rate for certain, I'll give it 93 for its promise."
